Coin Lockers Installed For City Plunge Users

When the city plunge opens for the summer season next Saturday, bathers will have to pay a 10-cent locker service charge for storage of clothing, towels, and valuables. Coin-operated lockers of the type seen in bus terminals have been installed to take the place of clothing bags. No increase has been made in admission prices of 20 cents for children and 25 cents for youth and adults.

RECREATION officials explained that these lockers were put in for the public to enjoy greater convenience in checking. Other advantages include quicker and more efficient service, safer storage for valuables, and reduced operating costs.

Children and families will be permitted to double up so that the expense of locker checking can be greatly reduced.

SAXON SIGHS

By GLENN SHERWOOD

Year end activity at North High for the class of '61 is reaching a fever pitch. Seniors approach this week with a mingling of pride, happiness, and some regrets. It is an exciting time for all students on campus.

The GAA Mother-Daughter Banquet on June 1, was a colorful start, with all members attired in Muu-Muu's to carry out the Hawaiian theme. Sandy Capelle, mistress-of-ceremonies, presented members of the faculty, who provided entertainment. The high point of the evening was the presentation of awards and the introduction of the incoming officers.

THE SAXON Student Council Banquet and Installation was held June 7, in the cafeteria. Char-broiled steak dinners started the evening on a fine note! The installation of the incoming officers and recognition of the outgoing council was crowned by the presentation of leadership awards to Cheryl Saunders, commissioner of records; and Nancy McDonald, commissioner of correspondence.

Eugene McCusker officiated. An unusual feature was the announcement that North High principal, Dale Harter, was also "outgoing" to a new post, and that Richard Guengerich would be the "incoming" principal next year.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES on campus began with the Sr. Field Day, when the class of '61 enjoyed the movie "Gigi," luncheon in the cafeteria, followed by games and "zany" activities on the field. Friday the 9th was Senior recognition Assembly and the Senior class first appear in cap and gown. The day is rich in tradition and meaning for Saxons. Scholarships for academic and athletic achievement were announced, the new Senior class of '62 wore their class jackets and sweaters, and the ceremony of turning the class rings for the new seniors was performed by the graduates. That same afternoon the graduating class received the '61 "Valiant" year book.

THE ANNUAL Installation Tea for Julian and Valiant members was held in the cafeteria at North, Thursday of this week. King Valiant, Bill Capps, and Queen Julian, Pat Bryden, explained the duties and responsibilities of members of the organization. The installation of new officers and members was followed by a social hour and the serving of refreshments.

One of the treasured traditions at North High is the annual Senior Mothers Tea, which will be held June 13, in the Patio. Graduates will then (from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.) reverse positions and honor their Mothers. North High's beautiful Silver Tea Service will be used and the receiving line will be composed of administration and faculty members.

THE CONCLUDING activities of the year, and of high school life for Seniors, will be the Senior Breakfast June 14, in the school cafeteria. At that time the class prophesy will be read for the amusement of all. An "annual signing" party follows the breakfast. Baccalaureate Services in the North High Stadium will be conducted by local clergy today at 2 p.m. Commencement will also be in the Stadium, June 15, at 8 p.m., followed by the "Senior All Night Party" sponsored by the PTA. It will be held at the "Reef," in Long Beach, using the Luau theme. Dinner, dancing, movies, and fun in general will fill the hours from 11:00 p.m. until 5:30 a.m. Friday morning.

As one of the graduating Seniors at North High this year it is my earnest hope that all other Saxons will find their four years at North as rewarding and as enjoyable as they have been for me.
